RYERSON IMAGE CENTRE
2021 Research Fellowships
Guidelines
Application – Terms – Stipends

In 2021, the Ryerson Image Centre will offer five fellowships for research related to photography:

The Nadir Mohamed Postdoctoral Fellowship

This fellowship includes a $10,000 (CAD) stipend for travel, research, and other expenses. Candidates must hold a PhD degree. All proposals will be welcome, but we encourage projects that utilize the collections and resources of the Ryerson Image Centre and the Ryerson University Archive and Library Special Collections. The fellow will be expected to carry out their research at the RIC a minimum of one (1) to a maximum of three (3) months, between March 15 and December 4, 2021. Changes in scheduling, timing, and duration of the fellowship may be shifted due to COVID-19.

The Singer Family Doctoral Fellowship

This fellowship includes a $10,000 (CAD) stipend for travel, research, and other expenses. Candidates must hold or be working toward a PhD degree. All proposals will be welcome, but we encourage projects that utilize the collections and resources of the Ryerson Image Centre and the Ryerson University Archive and Library Special Collections. Special consideration may be given to fulfill specific research goals. The fellow will be expected to carry out their research at the RIC a minimum of one (1) to a maximum of three (3) months, between March 15 and December 4, 2021. Changes in scheduling, timing, and duration of the fellowship may be shifted due to COVID-19.

The Wendy Snyder MacNeil Research Fellowship

This fellowship is intended to support new perspectives on Wendy Snyder MacNeil's work and archive, either as a principal subject of investigation or as a point of departure for related research. It includes a $2,500 (CAD) stipend for travel, research, and other expenses. Candidates must hold or be working toward an MA degree. Candidate's research should utilize the collections and resources of the Ryerson Image Centre or the Ryerson University Archive and Library Special Collections. The fellow will be expected to carry out their research at the RIC a minimum of one (1) to a maximum of four (4) weeks, between March 15 and December 4, 2021. Changes in scheduling, timing, and duration of the fellowship may be shifted due to COVID-19.

The Howard Tanenbaum Fellowship

This fellowship includes a $2,500 (CAD) stipend for travel, research, and other expenses. Candidates must hold or be working toward an MA degree or have equivalent experience and demonstrated interests. Candidate's research should utilize the collections and resources of the Ryerson Image Centre or the Ryerson University Archive and Library Special Collections. The fellow will be expected to carry out their research at the RIC a minimum of one (1) to a maximum of four (4) weeks, between March 1 and December 4, 2021. Changes in scheduling, timing, and duration of the fellowship may be shifted due to COVID-19.

The Elaine Ling Fellowship

This fellowship includes a $2,500 (CAD) stipend for travel, research, and other expenses. Candidates must hold or be working toward an MA degree. Candidate's research should utilize the collections and resources of the Ryerson Image Centre or the Ryerson University Archive and Library Special Collections. The fellow will be expected to carry out their research at the RIC a minimum of one (1) to a maximum of four (4) weeks, between March 15 and December 4, 2021. Selection Process

A committee will evaluate the applications based on their quality, their originality, and their foundation in the collections and resources of the Ryerson Image Centre or the Ryerson University Archive and Library Special Collections. The selection committee includes: Paul Roth (Director, RIC); Dr. Thierry Gervais (Head of Research, RIC, and Assistant Professor, Ryerson University); Dr. Denise Birkhofer (Collections Curator and Research Centre Manager); Charlene Heath (Archives Assistant and PhD Candidate, RIC); one faculty member from the graduate program in Film and Photography Preservation and Collections Management at the School of Image Arts, Ryerson University; and one curator/scholar from an external institution.

Fellowship Details

Research fellowships must take place in Toronto, Canada at the Ryerson Image Centre between March 15 and December 4, 2021. Dates of residency will be established in dialogue with the RIC. Changes in scheduling, timing and duration may be shifted due to COVID-19. Research fellows must agree to abide by COVID-19 health and safety precautions and regulations as directed by Ryerson University, the RIC and the Ministry of Health for the province of Ontario.

Fellows are expected to pay the cost of travel and accommodation in Toronto. The stipend awarded with the fellowship is intended to offset these costs. Fellows without Canadian citizenship are responsible for obtaining travel visas required by law according to their nationality.

Fellows will be offered access to the RIC's Peter Higdon Research Centre and collection materials, and (if available) the Ryerson University Archive and Library Special Collections.

Report

The recipient will submit a two-page fellowship report summarizing her/his research, no later than one month after the completion of the fellowship at the RIC.

The report must include:

- 1/ Initial objectives of the research;
- 2/ A description of the body of photographs analyzed for the research;
- 3/ A description of resources accessed for the research;
- 4/ The main findings of the research.

The report must be written suitably for both internal reporting and external media release.

About the Ryerson Image Centre

The RIC exists for the research, teaching and exhibition of photography and related media. We are an active partner within the academic fabric of Ryerson University, the cultural network of greater Toronto, and the national and international artistic community. We develop rigorous yet inclusive programs for students, faculty, artists, researchers and curators, as well as the general public.

The RIC boasts three interrelated areas of activity. Our exhibition program explores the medium of photography and addresses topics of social, cultural, aesthetic and historical concern from a variety of contemporary perspectives. Our research program conducts and facilitates inquiry into primary resource materials and offers workshops, symposia and publication programs. Finally, we maintain a collection of photography spanning the medium's history, as well as several artist and journalism archives — including the renowned Black Star Collection of twentieth-century photo-reportage.
